best coral reefs in all of Bali just a few meters from the shore. Pemuteran is home to the largest artificial Biorock reef project in the world. It is the real spirit of marine conservation effort in this area which makes this corner of Bali very special. Tourism has increased a lot in the last years and will continue to grow further in this area, but it still has a quiet atmosphere surrounded by beautiful nature. There is no nightlife like in the south of Bali but plenty of local and international dining places. Prices in this area will surely go up in the future and it makes this plot of land with IDR 88 Million per Are a very good investment.
